

Create the Future!

LEADING IN THE INNOVATION AGE

Half Day Workshop

Leadership is changing!

Are your skills up to date?

The success of your business, organisation or team is dependent on the quality of YOUR leadership.

Become the kind of leader and influencer who creates more productive and effective teams and environments.

This workshop gives you a clear understanding of what it takes to lift morale and increase buy-in with your team, your peers and others you work with.

The Innovation Age of the Twenty First century requires a new style of leader who can effectively harness the valuable skills and talents of their people.

Come to this workshop if you want to:

- Lift engagement and participation levels in your team*
- Elicit creative ideas from your people to solve problems*
- Move past being busy to being productive*

In this unique and highly acclaimed workshop you'll discover how to be the kind of leader who:

- Goes beyond maintaining the status-quo and business-as-usual practices to creating the future*
- Understands the seven essential qualities for successful 21st century leadership*
- Is confident about leading in the innovation age*

Research shows that many of the problems and failures that face organisations and teams come from a lack of effective leadership. Without the right kind of leadership other initiatives will not succeed. You don't have to be trapped in 'Groundhog Day'. Learn to lead yourself and your people into an exciting and inspiring future.

"Dr Irena Yashin-Shaw is one of the best in this space. She takes participants through a range of tools, methodologies and concepts which are readily transferrable into the workplace. The style of her workshop allows for cross-pollination of ideas and experiences which are shared in a constructive and honest manner." K. Tully, Director, Business Development & Innovation, SmartService QLD
